Dear NEBA Member:

Your NEBA Group Life Policy with the Great West Life and Annuity Insurance Company provides for the termination of an employee's group life insurance at the end of the pay period in which employment in an insured class terminates, or in which 12 months in a nonpay status is reached.

It also provides that the employee is entitled to apply to the carrier for an individual policy of life insurance (except term insurance), in any amount up to and including the amount in force at the end of the pay period in which employment terminates. Dependents who are insured under the policy are similarly entitled to apply for an individual policy upon the employee's termination of employment or death. Written application for the individual policy must be made within 31 days from the date of termination.

The individual policy will be issued without medical examination at the insured person's present attained age and in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Group Insurance Policy. The individual policy will become effective 31 days after insurance under the Group Life Policy terminates. During this 31-day period, coverage continues at no cost to the employee or to his dependents. For further information, call the carrier at (440) 871-3067.

Also, if you are enrolled in the Optional Insurance, this can be carried over into retirement, with premiums being paid directly to the company.

Sincerely,

Therease C. Ross
